Plane with 298 on board shot down over Ukraine

Malaysia Airlines Flight 17. At least one Canadian was on board

Ukraine accused pro-Russian separatists of shooting down a Malaysian jetliner with 298 people aboard Thursday, sharply escalating the crisis and threatening to draw both East and West deeper into the conflict. The rebels denied downing the aircraft.

American intelligence authorities said they believe a surface-to-air missile brought the plane down but were still working Thursday on who fired the missile and whether it came from the Russian or Ukrainian side of the border, a U.S. official said.

But U.S. intelligence assessments suggested it is more likely that pro-Russian separatists or the Russians, not Ukrainian government forces, shot down the plane, according to the official, who spoke on condition of anonymity.

The U.S. has sophisticated technologies that can detect missile launches, including the identification of heat from the rocket engine.

Bodies, debris and burning wreckage of the Boeing 777 were strewn over a field near the rebel-held village of Hrabove in the Donetsk region of eastern Ukraine, about 40 kilometres from the Russian border.

There was no indication there were any survivors from Flight 17, which took off shortly after noon Thursday from Amsterdam to Kuala Lumpur with 283 passengers, including three infants, and a crew of 15. Malaysia Airlines increased the death toll to 298 from 295 later Thursday, saying that the three infants had not been included in the original list.

Malaysia's prime minister said there was no distress call before the plane went down and that the flight route was declared safe by the International Civil Aviation Organization.

Ukraine's security services produced what they said were two intercepted telephone conversations that showed rebels were responsible. In the first call, the security services said, rebel commander Igor Bezler tells a Russian military intelligence officer that rebel forces shot down a plane. In the second, two rebel fighters — one of them at the crash scene — say the rocket attack was carried out by a unit of insurgents about 25 kilometres north of the site. Neither recording could be independently verified.

Officials said more than half of those aboard the plane were Dutch citizens, along with passengers from Australia, Malaysia, the U.K., Germany, Belgium, the Philippines and Canada. The home countries of 41 were not yet confirmed Thursday evening. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Construction worker dies after vehicle collision at Canadian War Museum

Ottawa police are seeking witnesses to an incident that killed a 61-year-old construction worker.

The man died after he was pinned under a trailer behind the Canadian War Museum Thursday around 11:45 a.m. The man's coworkers used a forklift to free him from the vehicle before he was treated on scene for severe injuries to his head, chest, and extremities. He died in hospital Thursday afternoon. The Ministry of Labour is also investigating. JOE LOFARO/METRO

Heartbleed case to return to Ottawa court in August

A 19-year-old London, Ont., man accused in the case of the so-called-Heartbleed bug that exposed 900 Canadian social insurance numbers online, did not appear in court as expected. He was instead represented by an articling student from a law firm, who asked court to adjourn the matter to Aug. 14.

Although the RCMP have not laid out their case, Stephen Arthuro Solis-Reyes was charged after hundreds of social insurance numbers were allegedly accessed from a Revenue Canada website. JOE LOFARO/METRO

$3M boost for city with track event

Mayor Jim Watson races members of the Ottawa Lions Track and Field club. SEAN MCKIBBON/METRO

The city will host the Canadian Track and Field Championships in 2017 and 2018, at the Terry Fox Athletic Facility at Mooney's Bay, the City announced Thursday.

The sporting events will draw thousands of athletes and about $3 million in economic spinoffs to the capital the city said. It will also mean more than $400,000 to the Terry Fox centre as the city must replace, improve and repair aging equipment and expand its capacity to store sports equipment needed for the games.

"This is another in our strategy of bidding more winning more and hosting more national and international competitions in the city of Ottawa. For those two years Ottawa will witness the best track and field athletes in the country," said Watson. "Ottawa makes a perfect setting... because of course we will be celebrating Canada's 150th birthday in 2017.

Athletics Canada CEO Rob Guy praised the City for the quality of its bid, saying Ottawa is one of the best organized and most enthusiastic host cities. He noted the success of the 2006 Championship, which was also held in Ottawa.

Redblacks fans, players look for team's first win

Game on. Ottawa team will face off against the Argos Friday night

halifax@metronews.ca

Anticipation for the team's first game at the new TD Place at Lansdowne Park grew at a lunchtime pep rally held at city hall, a day ahead of the Ottawa Redblacks' first home game Friday night.

The rally featured Canadian country band, Blackwell, a barbecue, fans and four Redblacks players.

Fan Ashley Artelle's said football has been part of her life since she was young. Her dad was a CFL referee.

The 27-year-old has season tickets for the year and hopes Friday's game will be a win for the team.

"Once they feel the home team support and all of us there rooting with them I think it will be a good season," she said.

Peter Webster, another fan, said he may be at work during games, but it won't stop him from cheering. Decked out in Redblacks gear, Webster said he'll still be keeping track of games and is looking forward to a good season.

About 62 campers, aged 10 to 12, from Patro d'Ottawa, also joined the festivities. Melissa David, 16, a camp counselor, said the kids had asked to go to the rally and were all excited to support the team.

Coach Rick Campbell told the cheering crowd the team is ready to win.

"I think what's going to do it, is a big crowd tomorrow night, loud and proud and we'll get it done for Ottawa," he said.

Quarterback Henry Burris agreed.

"We are here to play and represent this city to the best of our ability and it all starts tomorrow night."

Composer seeks help to fund musical tale of soldier's death

Kickstarter campaign. Music inspired by deadly Afghanistan friendly fire incident

LUCY SCHOLEY
lucy.scholey@metronews.ca

Ottawa composer Kelly-Marie Murphy.

Ottawa composer Kelly-Marie Murphy is using music to tell the tragic story of a fallen Canadian soldier in hopes it will resonate with Canadians who lost loved ones to war in Afghanistan.

Sgt. Marc Léger was one of four Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry Battle Group soldiers killed in a training exercise at Tarnak Farm, Afghanistan in 2002. A U.S. pilot mistook a live-fire exercise for an attack and dropped a bomb on the range.

"It's a story that needs to be told," Murphy said. "It's not just limited to them and their experience. You can go down through history and read letters from any war … about loss and coping, and even though you're proud of your son or daughter who was lost in war, it doesn't make those feelings of loss go away."

Murphy spent more than two years researching and interviewing Léger's parents, Claire and Richard, for her piece. She even has a personal connection to the family: Claire cared for Murphy's daughter when she was two years old.

"Marc is still a part of their family. They still talk about him. They still remember him at family gatherings. They've been hugely supportive and I can only hope that they're happy with the result."

Titled Blue on Blue: Unthinkable Distance, Unspeakable Sorrow, the piece will premiere on Nov. 17 at the National Arts Centre to commemorate the Ottawa Symphony Orchestra's 50th anniversary. However, the symphony needs a funding boost to help cover the costs.

Murphy has launched a Kickstarter campaign to pay for the hiring of famed tenor soloist Richard Margison and a music engraver to perfect the notes for each part.

Gaza Strip

Israeli forces launch ground offensive

Thousands of Israeli soldiers backed by tanks launched a ground offensive on the Gaza Strip on Thursday, escalating a 10-day campaign of heavy air bombardments to try to destroy Hamas' weapons arsenal, rocket-firing abilities and tunnels used to send militants from the Palestinian territory into Israel.

Israel had become increasingly exasperated with unrelenting rocket fire, especially following Hamas' rejection of an Egyptian ceasefire plan earlier in the week. More than 240 Palestinians have already died in the air campaign, including 14 children under age 12 killed over the past two days, according to Palestinian health officials. One Israeli also died and several were wounded by Hamas rocket fire since July 8.

Hamas spokesman Fawzi Barhoum said Israel "will pay dearly" for the assault, its first major ground offensive in Gaza since January 2009. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tragedy hits Malaysia Airlines again months after plane's disappearance

'Unprecedented'. Flight 17, carrying 283 passengers and 15 crew members, was shot down over Ukraine

Two Boeing 777s. Two incredibly rare aviation disasters. And one airline.

In what appears to be a mind-boggling coincidence, Malaysia is reeling from the second tragedy to hit its national airline in less than five months.

On March 8, a Malaysia Airlines jetliner vanished about an hour after taking off from Kuala Lumpur, spawning an international mystery that remains unsolved. On Thursday, the airline — and the nation — were pitched into another crisis after the same type of aircraft was reported shot down over Ukraine. Ukraine officials said the plane was brought down by a missile over the violence-wracked eastern part of the country. Other details were only just beginning to emerge.

"This is a tragic day in what has already been a tragic year for Malaysia," Malaysian Prime Minister Najib Razak said.

"Either one of these events has an unbelievably low probability," said John Cox, president and CEO of Safety Operating Systems, who is also a former airline pilot and accident investigator. "To have two in a just a few months of each other is certainly unprecedented."

On Thursday, there was no mystery over the whereabouts of the Boeing 777-200ER, which went down on a flight from Amsterdam to Kuala Lumpur with 283 passengers and 15 crew members. Its wreckage was found in Ukraine, and there were no survivors. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

298 dead

Canadian aboard flight

An official with Malaysia Airlines says at least one Canadian was among the 298 people aboard Malaysia Airlines flight MH17.

Huib Gorter, the airline's senior vice-president, said that of the nationalities known by Thursday evening, 154 people were Dutch, 27 were Australians, 23 were Malaysians, 11 were Indonesian, six were from the U.K., four were from Germany, four were from Belgium and three were from the Philippines. Calgary. Civilian searchers vow to continue efforts to locate boy, grandparents

Organizers say they'll continue their civilian search for signs of a missing five-year-old Calgary boy and his grandparents after earlier calling it off because of a social media backlash.

Matt Forseth says organizers decided to cancel the search when some questioned whether they might actually be hindering the police investigation.

But he says they changed their minds Wednesday after more than 100 people showed up to help and investigators OK'd their efforts.

The volunteers have been scouring rural areas near the community of Airdrie for signs of Alvin and Kathryn Liknes and Nathan O'Brien, who disappeared in late June.

Douglas Garland, who lived on an acreage near Airdrie, has been charged with three counts of murder, even though the bodies have not been found. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Khadr willing to stay in federal prison

Omar Khadr will remain in a federal prison.

The former Guantanamo Bay detainee has agreed to a stay of a decision by Alberta's top court that ruled he should be serving his sentence as a youth and be transferred to a provincial jail.

His lawyers say he's willing to remain at the federal Bowden Institution in central Alberta because he's doing well there, and they believe he'll still be able to apply to a youth court judge for release.

Khadr pleaded guilty in 2010 to war-crimes charges, including murder, for killing a U.S. soldier in Afghanistan when he was 15.

RCMP charges Mike Duffy with fraud and bribery

Senate scandal. Spokesman for PM Harper calls suspended senator's alleged behaviour 'disgraceful'

Mike Duffy arrives on Parliament Hill in October 2013. The RCMP have laid 31 charges against the suspended senator. ADRIAN WYLD/THE CANADIAN PRESS

With his folksy style and passion for politics, Mike Duffy became a household name as a veteran television journalist — a career that led him to a coveted Conservative seat in Parliament's upper chamber.

All that came crashing down Thursday as the RCMP laid 31 charges of fraud, breach of trust and bribery against the suspended senator.

The charges involve Duffy's claims for living expenses, claims for travel expenses unconnected with Senate business and fraudulent contracts, said RCMP's assistant commissioner, Gilles Michaud. They also cover a $90,000 payment Duffy allegedly received from Nigel Wright, the prime minister's former chief of staff.

Convictions on the charges could result in a prison sentence. The bribery count carries a maximum of 14 years.

Duffy's first court appearance is set for Sept. 16, the day after Parliament is scheduled to resume.

Donald Bayne, Duffy's lawyer, said when the full story is told, it will be clear Duffy is innocent of any wrongdoing.

"Those — including many in the media — who have been so eager and quick over the past year and a half to malign and even libel Sen. Duffy without his ever having had a fair hearing, should slow down their rush to judgment and let fair process determine this matter."

The behaviour outlined in the RCMP charges against Duffy is "disgraceful," a spokesman for Stephen Harper said Thursday.

"We assisted the RCMP throughout their investigation, and congratulate them on the progress they have made," Jason MacDonald said in a statement. "Those who break the rules must suffer the consequences. The conduct described in the numerous charges against Mr. Duffy is disgraceful."

2015 election

Duffy affair an X factor for Tories

Prime Minister Stephen Harper has a new political opponent to contend with heading into the 2015 election, when suspended Conservative senator Mike Duffy will have his day in court on 31 charges ranging from bribery to breach of trust in relation to alleged misuses of public funds.

The legal machinations could very well unfold in the run-up to the federal election scheduled for the fall of next year, keeping the details alive in the headlines. The speed of the ensuing trial will have political strategists making their calculations.

Lean and mean. Microsoft slashes jobs, boosts stock

Microsoft is cutting up to 18,000 jobs, about 14 per cent of its staff, over the next year as it works to cut down on management layers and integrate the Nokia devices business it bought in April.

The news sent Microsoft's stock up three per cent in premarket trading.

Although the job cuts had been expected, the extent of them was a surprise. It's the boldest move by CEO Satya Nadella since he took the reins from Steve Ballmer in February. In a public email to employees Thursday, he said the changes were needed for the company to "become more agile and move faster."

Of the job cuts, about 12,500 professional and factory jobs will be cut. Microsoft expects charges of $1.1 billion to $1.6 billion over the next four quarters, which includes $750 million to $800 million for severance and related benefit costs.

Microsoft has been shifting its focus from traditional PC software to cloud computing and cloud-based products, such as its Office 365 productivity software.

Tim Hortons brewing some innovative ideas

If a pint of coffee-flavoured beer gets you salivating, then Tim Hortons has a few other ideas that could change how you think about the restaurant chain.

Executives have lifted the curtain on a new concept store, buried deep inside the Metro Toronto Convention Centre, as part of an invite-only convention this week for store owners and suppliers that is essentially a visual brainstorming session.

Redefining itself in the highly competitive food services industry will be a challenge for a mainstay brand like Tim Hortons, but as more companies try to encroach on its dominant position in the Canadian coffee market it's not like there's much of a choice but to find ways to be different.

Certainly there were plenty of ideas to chew on — some even controversial.

Consider the beer taps that pour brews inspired by Tim Hortons' trademark coffee flavour — and a strawberry lager for the sweeter tooths. Or how about a unisex washroom that features a communal sink?

And there's even a conceptual design for a new Tim Hortons logo that's features only a bright red coffee bean.

Tim Hortons first showcased digital menu boards at its previous model store concept seven years ago and only recently have they become part of the store design.

WHO'S HER DADDY? ALLEGEDLY DUFFY

THE METRO LIST

Paul Sullivan
metronews.ca

It's time to check into the week's trendiest news ... or is that the week's newsiest trends? I get so confused.

1 The 13th Step is the Hardest. Toronto Mayor Rob Ford is back from rehab and is trying, with mixed results, to get back in the game. It's getting so bad that Marion Barry, the former crack-smoking mayor of Washington, D.C., says Ford is "making a fool of himself" and he's tired of people making comparisons.

2 He Ain't Heavy; He's My, Er, Dad: Speaking of XXXL politicians, star-crossed Sen. Mike Duffy is having a rough week. RCMP has laid 31 charges of fraud and breach of trust against him related to the Senate expense scandal. And if that doesn't put him off his feed, he finds himself fending off a paternity lawsuit from a 32-year-old woman who says he's her real dad. According to Maclean's, Karen Duffy sprang from an affair Duffy had with a convicted Peruvian drug smuggler who served time at a Kingston prison. Just writing that sentence gives me goosebumps.

3 You Can Go Home Again. Especially if they're paying you $21,573,398 US a year to do so. After four years as the cornerstone of the Miami Heat, Ohio native LeBron James is going back to Cleveland where he started his NBA career, saying that he hopes to be a Cavalier for the rest of his career. Miami. Cleveland. Cleveland. Miami. What's to choose?

4 Duh. A California judge has declared the death penalty unconstitutional — probably because if you're a judge, you can't just call something stupid. You have to get legal and call it unconstitutional. But his argument is a bit creepy, to say the least. The state, he opines, is breaking a solemn promise, i.e. to kill the condemned prisoner. Of the 900 sent to death row in California since 1978, only 13 have been executed. "For too long," the judge wrote, "the promise has been an empty one." Inmate to judge: I'm OK with that.

5 Death by Amoeba. In more unfunny news, a nine-year-old Kansas girl has been killed by a brain-eating amoeba called Naegleria fowleri. Lurking in the lake or the swimming hole, it goes up through your nose and heads for your brain … and starts eating. It's extremely rare, but of the 130 people who have been infected over the last 50 years, only three have survived. Just when you thought it was safe to go back in the water.

6 What's Wrong with a Pony? Jeremiah Heaton, a doting dad from Virginia, gets the Enabler of the Week Award. His daughter Emily — like many a seven-year-old girl — is obsessed with princesses. So Dad hops on a plane and lands on an unclaimed patch of desert between Egypt and Sudan, where he plants the family flag (designed by the kids: blue background with a seal and stars), claiming it as The Kingdom of North Sudan, so Emily will one day be a real princess. Imagine if some guy from the Sudan tried that trick in Death Valley. We hope that Emily is amused, at least.

Vodou pilgrims head to the waters to pay tribute to patron saint

Followers of Haiti's most celebrated patron saint, Our Lady of Mount Carmel, gather at the Saut d'Eau waterfall every summer to pay tribute and make requests.

This year, worshippers performed Voodoo cleansing rituals in the water, stripping off their clothes and using leaves to wash away bad luck and their sins.

They also petitioned the saint to improve their lives.

Lionel Saint-Jean said that after losing his house in Haiti's catastrophic 2010 quake, he asked the saint for a new one and got it.

"So I came this year to thank her for that," Saint-Jean said.

Thousands come to Saut d'Eau every year to honor the virgin.

Voodoo, or Vodou as many practitioners prefer, evolved from West African beliefs and adopted elements of Roman Catholicism.

STAR-TELEGRAM.COM

A tree grew in Haiti

The Saut d'Eau area holds cultural significance in Haiti, to both Catholic and Vodou practitioners.

- It is believed that the Virgin Mary of Mount Carmel appeared on a palm tree there in the 19th century.
- A French priest, afraid of the superstition this would inspire, cut the tree down, but it nonetheless became an important religious destination for Haitians.

We're halfway through July, and by now you're likely in one of two camps: the side that's comfortable with Iggy Azalea's Fancy as the Song Of The Summer or the side that's declared this to be the worst Song Of The Summer we've ever endured.

We don't know what camp the mighty Weird Al Yankovic is in, but anything that divisive is too juicy a target for him to avoid during his equally mighty Eight Days of Al gimmick. Watch Weird Al Yankovic go Weird Al Borland for Handy. (Yahoo)

Let's talk about sex (tapes)

Reel Guys

RICHARD CROUSE AND MARK BRESLIN

Cameron Diaz and Jason Segel's chemistry can't save Sex Tape. CONTRIBUTED

Implausible porno. Cameron Diaz in her underwear, a newly slim Jason Segel and a clever Rob Lowe casting can't save this film's lacklustre libido

Richard: Mark, any movie with the word sex in the title and Cameron Diaz in her underwear and a newly slim Jason Segel in the all-together should be a lot sexier than Sex Tape is.

The first 20 minutes plays more like an attempt to break the world record for using the word "sex" in a movie than an actual story. Diaz and Segel talk about sex, have sex, then talk about it some more, but rather than being racy or slap-your-thigh funny it becomes tiresome. The only word used more often is "iPad," which is even less provocative.

Mark: Richard, this movie is one of the best Apple commercials I've seen in years. But it does have some laughs. I couldn't decide, though, if it was original yet flimsy or flimsy yet original.

I was glad the running time clocked in at a neat 90 minutes as it was wearing out its welcome fast.

That's mostly because Cameron Diaz' smokin' hot bod is naked only in the first half of the picture. She has a pretty good chemistry with Jason Segel, but Rob Lowe steals the show.

Considering his own past, it's a neat bit of stunt casting.

RC: The Robs are the best part of the movie. The iPad retrieval from Rosenbaum's mansion gives Rob Lowe (who knows a thing or two about sex tapes) a chance for some off-the-wall fun as the straight-laced executive with a wild side.

Rob Corddry's wide-eyed interest in his best friend's sex tape was amusing and felt like the most genuine thing in the movie.

I thought Diaz and Segel were OK, but I didn't buy into the movie's main joke for a second.

MB: Yes, well, talk about a manufactured crisis!

There's lots to pick apart here, especially the subplot involving Corddry's blackmailing teenage son. But there's some nifty dialogue, especially at the beginning of the movie, and a scene I liked at the porn server's with a cameo by a famous comic actor.

By the way, all those porn website titles they spiel off are real ones, or, umm, so I was told by the guy sitting next to me.

RC: Hey! I was sitting next to you. I take the fifth.

Unlike you, I hated the first section of the movie. I thought the least interesting part of the movie was the sex and the sex talk.

MB: No one will mistake this movie for the classic comedies of Preston Sturges.

The movie aims low and thereby exceeds expectations.

Not very demanding, but it is summer.

Synopsis

Jason Segel and Cameron Diaz are Jay and Annie, a married couple who try to spice things up in the bedroom by videotaping themselves working through the Joy of Sex page by page. All goes well until Jay forgets to delete the video and mistakenly posts their three-hour amateur porntacular on the cloud. With BFFs Robby (Rob Corddry) and Tess (Ellie Kemper), the embarrassed couple try and retrieve each of the "infected" iPads, especially the one in the hands of Hank Rosenbaum (Rob Lowe), the family-first CEO of the company that publishes Annie's G-rated mommy blog.

Diane Keaton sings a new tune

And So It Goes.

Veteran actress always wanted to become a singer and finally got her wish in latest role

RICHARD CROUSE
scene@metronews.ca

Michael Douglas and Diane Keaton star in And So It Goes, which opens next Friday. CONTRIBUTED

Diane Keaton's latest film, the romance And So It Goes, brings the star back to her roots.

As a beginner, long before she won an Academy Award for Annie Hall, or starred in the controversial Looking for Mr. Goodbar or inspired romantic rivalry between her Reds leading men, Warren Beatty and Jack Nicholson, Keaton dreamed of being a singer.

"I had a fantasy of being a nightclub singer that I carried through even into my early 20s," she says.

"I sang a couple of gigs, as they call them, but I was not very good. I began to understand that I was not going to be a singer. I've always loved to sing but I'm aware of the limitations of my voice. It was always a disappointing voice. I took singing lessons for years, but it was a very small voice. It's worse than it ever was. It's smaller than ever. But I have this love of it. I love music. I love singing ballads and sad songs, it's just so much fun."

And sing she does in the new film, a romance co-starring Michael Douglas — "He couldn't be any more charming," she says — about Leah, a woman who gets a second chance at a career and love.

"I never thought I'd ever sing again. I had some songs intermittently in some movies but to have it come up again and have the possibility of singing four songs and one song all the way through was a dream come true."

Keaton describes Leah, a lounge singer who bursts into tears at the mere thought of her late husband, as a woman, "who has had a lovely life but has lost the love of her life. She's my age, in her late 60s."

The 68-year-old Oscar winner says playing Leah was "a joy," but adds, "getting old is a great levelling experience. You really do see the truth, which is that your expression and your goals don't really mean much in the grand scheme of things.

"With that in mind you start seeing life in a different way. You don't see it so much as the goals for the future; it's just now. You live in the moment, in the present. This is what you have.

"So I really feel you're more grateful, you're more filled with awe, you're more amazed because it is a huge, giant question mark this life we live in.

"It's a huge gift and you need to see yourself for what you are and appreciate what you have while you have it now."

Quoted

"Getting old is a great levelling experience. You really do see the truth, which is that your expression and your goals don't really mean much in the grand scheme of things."

OUR TAKE ON THE WORLD OF CELEBRITIES

The Word

It's not Harry's style to embark on a solo career

NED EHRBAR
Metro in Hollywood

Calm down, kids. Harry Styles is not leaving One Direction to embark on a solo career. Not yet, at least.

"Harry has no plans to go solo," a source tells Radar Online. "Harry is very reliant on the guys and feels much more secure when with them. He is actually quite timid in person."

That's adorable and all, but now I'm starting to think that there might actually be something to the rumors and that this denial is just a ruse.

After all, the British are masters at self-deprecation, and the more self-effacing they get the less you can believe them.

Like when you offer an Englishman more cake and he says, "Oh, I couldn't possibly"? He could, in fact.

So if this "source" had just left it at Harry being comfortable in a group setting, that would have been fine — and definitely more than a little suggestive. But the whole timid thing?

Red flag, man. He's pulling a Timberlake.

Career first, romance and marriage second for driven Harry Potter star

Daniel Radcliffe's focus on his career is reportedly making for some uncomfortable times at home with girlfriend of two years Erin Darke, according to celebrity biographer Randy Jernigan.

"Right now, Daniel's career comes first, not romance and marriage. Erin was expecting more from him. She feels like she isn't a priority in his life," Jernigan says. The author, who has an unauthorized biography of the Harry Potter star due later this summer, points to a recent Daily Beast article in which Radcliffe dismissed engagement rumors as "absolute bullocks," angering Darke. "They're not engaged, but when he scoffed at the idea of marriage to the reporter, she was offended," he says. "It made her feel like she wasn't important to him."

Sheryl Crow

Sheryl Crow having trouble finding an equal

Sheryl Crow likes to be extra-sure before jumping into anything, which is why she's been in no rush to walk down the aisle.

"It's better to have three broken engagements than three divorces," she tells Good Housekeeping, poking fun at her own dating history.

So far as we know, she's only ever been engaged to Lance Armstrong, but she's also dated the likes of Eric Clapton and Owen Wilson.

"I had always gone out with guys who were highly successful, which would seem like it would put me at an equal level," she explains to the magazine. "But what ends up happening is that one of you becomes smaller — and it was always me. It's always the woman. I mean, I don't know if it's always the woman, but I do think that sometimes in order for one person's light to shine, everyone else has to dim theirs."

Watermelon and feta is always a winning combination.

The interplay of colours, the different textures, and the balance between sweet and salty is perfection.

Add cucumber, chicken and a cocktail for a great start to a relaxing summer afternoon.

Dressing

1. In a bowl, combine mayonnaise, Dijon mustard, white wine vinegar (or rice vinegar). Set aside.

Salad

1. In a large bowl, combine sliced or cubed chicken breast, arugula, diced watermelon, sliced fennel, sliced cucumber, chopped green onions, crumbled feta cheese, and sea salt and pepper. Divide the Chicken, Watermelon, Feta and Cucumber salad among four plates.

2. Drizzle with the vinaigrette over the salad. Season with salt and pepper.

In a wine rut? Do you keep pouring the same old pinot grigio or merlot? Well, it's time to start drinking outside the box and experiment with a new grape.

While there are hundreds of berries in the naked vineyard, a number are just shy of mass market popularity, which makes them ripe for discovery.

I'm thinking white fruit like verdejo and grüner veltliner, and reds like grenache (a.k.a. garnacha) and tempranillo.

Tempranillo is arguably wine's most stealth grape, having slipped under the radar of most Canadian consumers for decades.

A superstar in its native Spain, if you've had a red from its Rioja region you may have a taste for it.

Campo Viejo's 2011 Tempranillo ($14.45 - $19.79) used to be called Crianza (a nod to the juice having spent at least one year aging in oak barrels). Smooth and medium-bodied, it shows classic red berry and cherry flavours along with a lingering impression of cedar, spice and leather. Try with grilled burgers, paella and meat-laden pizzas. PRICES REFLECT THE RANGE ACROSS THE COUNTRY. SOME PRODUCTS MAY NOT BE AVAILABLE IN ALL PROVINCES.

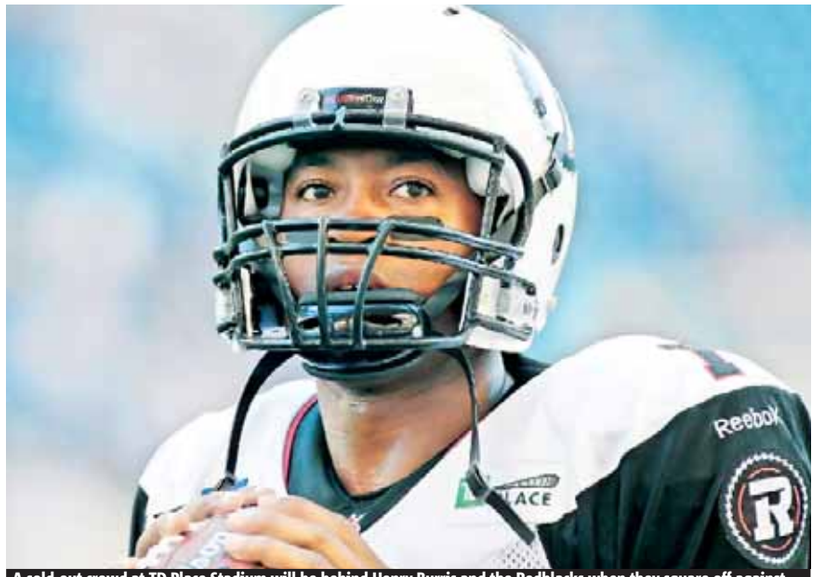
Burris not too old for another first

Redblacks' home debut. 39-year-old veteran QB says he's honoured 'to break ground' in Ottawa



A sold-out crowd at TD Place Stadium will be behind Henry Burris and the Redblacks when they square off against the Argos on Friday. MARIANNE HELM/GETTY IMAGES

Henry Burris boasts an impressive CFL resume.

Over 15 seasons, he's twice won a league championship, been named a Grey Cup and CFL MVP and is one of just five players ever to surpass the 50,000-yard passing plateau.

But even with 17 years of pro football under his belt — he also played in the NFL with Green Bay and Chicago — the 39-year-old Texan will experience a career first Friday night when he leads the expansion Ottawa Redblacks (0-2) into their first-ever game at TD Place Stadium against the Toronto Argonauts (1-2).

"I've never been in this position before," Burris said following Thursday's practice. "I played in the first Monday-night game following 9/11 (Green Bay's 37-0 win over Washington on Sept. 24, 2001), I've played in Grey Cups and those were some pretty emotional times for me.

"But I can just imagine how emotional and how much energy is going to be in this stadium and this entire city. I know this fan base has waited since 2005 to have a true home game and a true home stadium. It's an honour to be here and able to be part of this team to break ground as far as getting this organization and city back into football."

What pressure?

"I'd call it added incentive for us to go out and play well and give them (fans) a team they can look forward to." Redblacks defensive back Jovon Johnson

Not since the former Renegades in November 2005 has a CFL team played a home game in Ottawa, and the city hasn't celebrated a Grey Cup winner since 1976 when Tony Gabriel's historic TD catch rallied the Rough Riders to a thrilling 23-20 victory over Saskatchewan. But a sellout gathering of 24,000 will be on hand for the Redblacks' inaugural home game.

"It's a big deal, and we've been waiting for this day for a long time," said Ottawa head coach Rick Campbell. "We've had a bunch of firsts over the last several months as far as what's gone on with our franchise, and (Thursday) will be a big night and we're definitely proud of it."

With Ottawa's first home game generating such a huge buzz — a pep rally was held Thursday at city hall — the Redblacks will definitely have the home-field advantage as they search for their first-ever win. However, that also means there'll be a lot of pressure on them to perform well.

"Hopefully it's loud and exciting," Argos head coach Scott Milanovich said. "Our guys are looking forward to playing in the new stadium being kind of the first show in town." THE CANADIAN PRESS

TD Place

Fury to set NASL attendance record

The Ottawa Fury FC will host the defending NASL champions New York Cosmos in its home opener.

The talented Cosmos, led by former Spanish international Marco Senna, will not be the star attraction Sunday afternoon. Rather, the redeveloped TD Place will, ushering a new era of Ottawa sports history.

Earlier this week Fury president John Pugh announced that the game has sold more than 13,151 tickets and will break the current NASL single-game attendance record. Tickets can be purchased at the gate; kick-off is set for 3 p.m. Sunday. METRO

Dazed and confused

"Shortly after the blow, Kramer came to me asking, 'Ref, is this the final?' I thought he was joking and made him repeat the question, and then he said, 'I need to know if this is really the final.' When I said, 'Yes,' he concluded, 'Thanks, it was important to know that.'"

Germany midfielder Christoph Kramer was disoriented and confused after taking a heavy blow to the head early in the World Cup final, according to the match's referee Nicola Rizzoli. Scan the image with your Metro News app for an update on FIFA's latest rankings.

Horoscopes by Sally Brompton

♈ Aries
March 21 - April 20
Even an ambitious Aries needs to take it easy once in a while and the planets are now urging you to relax. Spend time with your loved ones today. They would like to see more of you.

♉ Taurus
April 21 - May 21
Your task for the next 24 hours is o release all that pent-up energy that's inside you in a way that does you good while not harming other people.

♊ Gemini
May 22 - June 21
Anything of a creative nature will go well for you today – and you could make money from it too. Your number one aim is to enjoy what you're doing.

♋ Cancer
June 22 - July 23
According to the planets you're not in the mood to make much of an effort, but that's OK. There is no cosmic law that says you must be busy at all times.

♌ Leo
July 24 - Aug. 23
Like everyone else, you have weaknesses and the planets warn that one of them — pride most likely — could be your undoing. Just because everything is going well does not mean you can let down your guard.

♍ Virgo
Aug. 24 - Sept. 23
If you need assistance today ask for it, because you don't have to do it on your own. You have friends who will be more than happy to help you out.

♎ Libra
Sept. 24 - Oct. 23
Decide which is more important: love or ambition. You can, of course, have both but if you are wise you will put personal happiness first and professional success second.

♏ Scorpio
Oct. 24 - Nov. 22
You seem to be pushing yourself harder than ever but will achieve more in the long-term if you balance your physical and mental efforts with plenty of relaxation.

♐ Sagittarius
Nov. 23 - Dec. 21
There is no need to impose deadlines on what you're doing. The more pressure you put on yourself, the more likely it is you will make a mistake.

♑ Capricorn
Dec. 22 - Jan. 20
You are in a romantic mood and that's good. The only danger is that you will put the object of your affection on too high a pedestal and feel devastated when they tumble.

♒ Aquarius
Jan. 21 - Feb. 19
A loved one will ask you to cover up for them today and you'll be happy to do so. You don't want to see them get hurt but shouldn't they be learning from their own mistakes?

♓ Pisces
Feb. 20 - March 20
You will feel affectionate today. It won't last, but while it does see how many good deeds you can do for loved ones.
